Dearest Friend,

Your letter on the day of the birth of your granddaughter seemed to be the color rose. I hope that the little one is thriving and that you've had a chance to hold her by now.

The little news we get of what happens in Chile troubles us greatly. and now things look still worse. What can we do to help?

I have never heard from the Fulbright Commission in Chile so I am assuming they decided not to have me come there. And I quite understand -- seems to me many other professions could be more helpful at this point. Please thank Eduardo for trying to arrange things!

I'd still like to come - Fulbright or no Fulbright. So I have my eyes searching for some wealthy or some fund which would pay the transportation. If I find the funds which would be the most convenient for you or Eduardo if we were to do a workshop of some sort?

Worked with Norman Carl-berg in Maryland for a few days this past April.
Of course, we spoke of you and our friends in Chile. Norman is as modest and thoughtful (and reactionary) as ever.
I enjoy his Juanita
who is forever teasing him.

We have a new (and forth) granddaughter now
who is 6 months old (Nicki). In these photos
you see three and their elders.

I save clippings
that I think may interest you and then can't find them when it's time to seal the envelope. ¡Gasta!

Much love to you
your family and all
my friends there.
Keep in touch.

Paul
