Dear Nemesio,

I'm excited about you and Patricia meeting Ann + George Hogle. It is as exciting as if I was getting to come back myself.

Ann is humble and bright and shy... and she won't bring her monoprints unless you asked her to. I'm very taken with her prints and believe ~~at~~ they would make an excitement among your print-makers and the work of Taller 99 would excite her. Last night I showed her Canter de los Canteros.

George is very special, too, I believe he was on the New York Stock Exchange when he went to Europe as a stretcher bearer during W.W II. When he visited Switzerland he knocked on the door of ~~the~~ Carl Jung... and C. J. answered the door. Later that afternoon C. J. told George to be an ~~analyst~~ psychiatrist... and George then changed course, went to medical school and presto! he became a Jungian analyst and a great one. I've ~~made~~ made compact a long story but I probably never remember anything but the most fantastic facts.

Have no idea who is in good health there, who is still friends with whom but if it were possible I'd like the Hoges to meet Pin y Sergio (y Sergio Hijo?), Rosa y Theresa V., Eduardo Vilches and my beloved helper Luis Olivares and his wife Anna [this may be too hard to arrange]. And also to meet artists you love whom we have never met... so ^{what} new things ^{will} happen between the artists of Chile + the U.S.

me + I remember a gorgeous weekend with Sergio in Zapallar
... we had never seen a landscape so beautiful. We ~~was~~ wondered if the Hogles could rent a car + drive there. I wanted them also to go to Temuco and to the village of the crin ... but ~~such~~ such excursions are out of the question I know.

~~the~~ If you want to write Ann to bring some prints or slides her address is

Virginia Huneaus once went to see Luis + Anna for me. She said they had done well despite the hard times. Now, by the way, is Virginia? She suddenly wrote no more.

Well - all good wishes to you + Patricia for this + every other year + have a fine first evening with Ann + George. ~~With~~ Meme sends all her love with mine.

Paul
