

(AP Wirephoto)

DISPUTED PAINTING — Nemesio Antunez and his wife look at an Italian Renaissance painting of Saint Sebastian by Andrea Del Castagno in New York's Metropolitan Museum of Art, which Italian officials have charged was removed from Italy "clandestinely." Charles R. Henschel, president of the art firm from which the museum bought the painting, denied the charge. An investigation has been started in Italy.

Retrato de Nemesio e
Luís tomados em Washington
(de uma revista) Dezembro de 1949